

TOP BUTTON

BEAUTY FEATURE

Mother's Day Gift Guide

By Danielle Schlass Saliman
May 5, 2008

Every year we try hard to come up with something new for mom—that special woman who likes to remind us how many hours of labor she endured to bring us into this world. Somehow a vase full of flowers just doesn't say 'thanks mom,' quite like she really deserves. Or maybe you want to throw hints at your husband (the reason you had to endure hours of labor bringing his child into this world) and you want to point him away from the flower shop. Either way, bookmark this page for some good ideas!

On her Feet Mom: Why waste a ton on a gift certificate to a spa for a pedicure when you can hand her a continual weapon against dry, rough tootsies. She can use this more than once and get in her sandals in seconds without worrying about booking an appointment. The Artemis Woman Heel Smoother is a pedicure device that removes dead skin in seconds with its DuraCrystal tip exposing new, soft, smooth skin.